Why a Content Delivery App?

Easy Access

Providing mobile-ready content that can be accessed while not onsite, from devices like Smartphones, Pads and even Laptops. Appiercom 360 Content Delivery Apps are platform agnostic and work on all devices that have online access.

Engaging

Interactive training content helps ensure that employees are more engaged in the training journey. High quality delivery to users on their terms.

Better ROI

Making the switch from traditional types of content and delivery vehicles can make a big difference in terms of the ROI and productivity.

We have the solution you need.

The App delivered on its promise of significantly improving our training capability making our training content easier for users to access. We are proud of our content, which was always designed to be a more dynamic and sustained reference tool long after the course is finished. Now that it is on app form, it truly is that. For many of our course participants, the mobile nature of the app has added a new dimension. Their commute is now their classroom.

Alan Higgins – Operations Director, Ingenium TC

What do trainees say?

I have always found it difficult to carry forward new information from training courses – it is great on the day but when you get back to the office it can be hard to not fall back into old habits. Having the training content in a handy mobile app is a great way around this problem – now I can quickly and easily reference key information when I need it. Brilliant!

I really liked the mobile app which came with the course – we used it to track our progress during the course and now have access to the materials whenever they are needed.

Our Training Manual App is a wonderful tool – I can revise key ideas from the course whenever I have downtime which helps keep the material fresh in my mind. The App helps to make the Leadership course more impactful day to day – I find myself looking back through relevant topics in the app before important meetings

I really enjoyed the course and have recommended it to several of my colleagues – they were very impressed when I showed them the course companion app as they could see quickly what was involved – at least two of my colleagues have already signed up for the next course!
